Costa Mesa Fire & Rescue will partner with several local firefighting agencies to conduct Air Operations Training at Fairview Park to prepare for the potential of wildfires in the area and improve communications and interoperability between all agencies.

To avoid interference with the training and to minimize safety concerns, fire officials are requesting that the public stay away from that area of the park and to refrain from any drone usage in and around the area.

Costa Mesa Fire & Rescue is the host of the operations, which will take place at the south end of the park on July 19 and 20 and Aug 2 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Orange County Fire Authority and the Orange County Sheriff’s office and several Orange County fire agencies will also take part in the exercise.

Both the Sheriff and Fire Authority helicopters will be used during the operations as well as other large fire apparatus.

Fire officials have worked with city staff to ensure that all environmental and wildlife concerns are addressed prior to the training.

Fire Station No. 1 construction reaches new milestone

Public Services recently reached another major milestone with the reconstruction of Fire Station No. 1.

Additionally, he is an example to those he mentors as he achieved his master's degree from Columbia Southern University in Emergency Services Management.

Diamond is married to his wife Jenni, who works as a case worker for Run to Rescue. Together, they have two twin boys (20-years old) who were accomplished soccer players in high school and now hope to follow in their dad's footsteps as they are currently attending a local fire academy. Diamond enjoys eating out, going to movies, and family trips.
